

Tecumseh gals create 2010 female athletes calendar

Two Tecumseh-born childhood friends who hadn't seen each other in years came together last fall to make possible a 2010 Calendar featuring female athletes who will be competing during the 2010 Winter Olympics.

Amanda Reaume, who now works as the Executive Director of the Antigone Foundation, an organization based out of Vancouver used Facebook to reconnect with childhood friend Leesa Dawn Micallef who recently launched the Windsor-based graphic and web design company LDMedia.

In need of a graphic designer to create the cover for The Antigone Foundation's 2010 Dreams for Women calendar featuring female athletes, Micallef signed on to create and design the cover of the calendar.

The calendar features

twelve internationally renowned athletes that aims to raise money for The Antigone Foundation, a Canadian organization working to support young women's involvement in leadership, politics, activism and feminism that Reaume founded.

The 2010 Dreams for Women calendar is an effort to leverage the power of female athletes to raise money for young women's leadership training in Canada and to create a lasting social legacy from the 2010 Vancouver Olympic Games.

"We believe the Dreams for Women calendar will be a great way to spotlight the importance of women's leadership with the help of these famous female athletes," said Reaume. "This project was made even more meaningful because it allowed me to reconnect with a friend who I hadn't seen in years".

"As a young female entrepreneur, I am very proud to have had the opportunity to work on the Dreams for Women calendar and support the message that the Antigone Foundation represents. Being able to reconnect and work with Amanda made the experience even more meaningful to me".

The Foundation expects to sell over 5000 copies of the calendar and will use the money that they make from sales to fund a 'Dreams for Women Scholarship' for young women leaders, as well as a cross-Canada leadership tour, which will stop in at least 5 Canadian cities and provide leadership training to girls and young women.
